

IDAHO STATE INDEPENDENT LIVING COUNCIL (SILC) STRATEGIC PLAN, 2009-2012

GOALS, MISSION, AND OBJECTIVES

The Idaho State Independent Living Council (SILC) aspires to promote a philosophy of independent living, including a philosophy of consumer control, peer-support, self-help, self-determination, equal access, and individual and system advocacy in order to maximize opportunities for individuals with disabilities, and the integration and full inclusion of individuals with disabilities into the mainstream of society.

The Idaho SILC's present Mission Statement was developed during the State Plan for Independent Living Planning Session April 29, 2004 and adopted at the SILC Quarterly Business meeting July 23, 2004. It states: The Idaho SILC's mission is to advocate for and achieve independence, choice, self-determination, equal access and equal opportunity for Idahoans with disabilities through systems change, policy involvement and public education. In developing the above statement, Council members committed to the following responsibilities as directed in Title VII, The Rehabilitation Act of 1973 as amended in 1998:

- Develop, sign and submit, in cooperation with the Idaho Division of Vocational Rehabilitation (IDVR) and the Idaho Commission for the Blind and Visually Impaired (ICBVI), the State Plan for Independent Living (SPIL) for people with disabilities. The SILC will monitor, review and evaluate the implementation of the SPIL.
- Support the centers for independent living (CILs) and advocate for independent living (IL) services provided through state and federal programs for people with disabilities.
- Gather and disseminate information, conduct studies and analyses, develop model policies, conduct training on IL philosophy, outreach to un-served and underserved populations, and work to expand and improve IL services.
- Develop a plan for the provision of resources to the SILC.
- Develop and pursue a public policy agenda that results in positive systemic change for people with disabilities.

In 2004 the SILC became an autonomous governmental entity with the passage of House Bill 711. Council members committed to the following additional duties under Idaho state statute (Title 56 Chapter 12, 56-1204):

- Assess the need for services for Idahoans with disabilities and advocate with decision makers;
- Supervise and evaluate such staff as may be necessary to carry out the functions of the council;
- Ensure that all regularly scheduled meetings of the council are open to the public and that sufficient advance notice of meetings is provided pursuant to the open meeting law;
- Prepare reports and make recommendations, as necessary;
- Perform other activities the council deems necessary to increase the ability of Idahoans with disabilities to live independently;
- Promulgate rules, as may be necessary, in compliance with chapter 52, title 67, Idaho Code.

BARRIERS

Idaho has unique attributes such as beautiful scenery, land that is sparsely populated and a sprawling geography. Although it is the 13th largest state in the union by size, the 2002 residence census figures show the Idaho total population at 1,341,131. This is a 28.5 percent population increase from the 1990 census. Rural areas cover 88.3 percent of the state where 36.2 percent of the total population reside. Changes in federal funding have shifted responsibility for many social services from the federal to state and local government levels and has increased pressure on state and local budgets in Idaho. This has increased the difficulty of providing quality social services. Economic difficulties in rural communities translate into increased problems for people with disabilities. Some barriers may be obvious, such as lack of ramped entrances for people who use wheelchairs, lack of interpreters or captioning for people with hearing impairments, or lack of Braille or taped copies of printed material for people who have visual impairments. Transportation within and between cities either doesn't exist, is inconvenient, inaccessible, or is too expensive to use. Accessibility of housing, public buildings and businesses are inadequate. Personal assistance services, occupational, physical and cognitive therapies are often not available in the smaller communities or the service industry has too many people on their waiting lists to service all the needs; couple that with poor transportation facilities to get to the metropolitan areas for these services, and people tend not to receive the proper services.

Since the Idaho SILC's inception, it has been actively engaged in activities that assist in providing Idahoans with disabilities a greater voice in obtaining services that are consumer-responsive, cost-effective and community-based.

Four initial focus groups were held at the Centers for Independent Living (CILs) to gather input for the new three-year State Plan for Independent Living. Living Independence Network Corporation (LINC) invited consumers to attend sessions in Boise and Twin Falls in September and October of 2006. In cooperation with Living Independently for Everyone (LIFE), the SILC conducted a focus group in Pocatello in September, 2006. In cooperation with Disability Action Center-Northwest (DAC-NW), the SILC held a focus group in Coeur d'Alene in August, 2006. The CILs recruited people with disabilities to attend and provided logistical support to organize the focus groups. A total of 59 people attended the first round of focus groups. The SILC also held a Three-Year State Plan for Independent Living (SPIL) one and one half day planning session in January, 2007. Council members voiced the concerns and priorities that they received from people with disabilities in their communities. A second round of focus groups followed this to review and comment on the draft plan. These were held in Caldwell and Burley and scheduled in Lewiston in April, 2007 in cooperation with the centers for independent living in these areas. The SILC also provided opportunity to comment on the plan through the SILC website.

A compilation of priorities and common themes from the focus groups and the planning session are as follows: (1) increased availability of accessible affordable transportation statewide; (2) the enforcement of existing civil rights laws and the advancement of the civil rights for people with disabilities; (3) public awareness to reduce stigma and increase understanding of people with disabilities, especially in schools and with law enforcement professionals; (4) access to and coordination of information and resources available to people with disabilities.

VISION

It is the vision of the Idaho SILC to realize the philosophy of independent living in local communities where people with disabilities reside. The SILC's goal is to maximize opportunities and to incorporate people with disabilities into all walks of life by empowering them. The road to empowerment includes changes in the individual and systems change. Changes in the individual include recognizing and using the power of peer support and self-help groups to raise awareness that self-determination is within reach. Systems change includes further de-medicalization, de-institutionalization, strengthened public policies for equal access and further utilization of individual and system advocacy. The SILC will continue to evaluate existing programs to determine their effectiveness, and then encourage redirection of resources to provide optimum opportunities for people with disabilities. The SILC will also work to promote greater program coordination in order to reduce inappropriate and unnecessary regulatory requirements, which will allow the state to utilize a greater portion of its resources for services to individuals.

DESIGN FOR THE STATEWIDE NETWORK OF CENTERS

Idaho Coalition of Independent Living Centers — The Idaho Coalition of Independent Living Centers (ICILC) will, in this plan period, compare consumer record data gathered from each Center's annual report and make recommendations on how Centers can better serve minority populations.

Living Independence Network Corporation (LINC) — The Living Independence Network Corporation (LINC) is a not-for-profit 501 (c) (3) grassroots organization that incorporated in Idaho in 1988. LINC operates a center for independent living as provided for in Chapter 1, Title VII of the Rehabilitation Act, as Amended. The organization has three offices, located in Boise, Caldwell, and Twin Falls, Idaho, and serves Ada, Canyon, Boise, Elmore, Payette, and Twin Falls counties.

LINC is a consumer controlled, cross-disability, non-residential, community-based organization that provides Information and Referral, Peer Counseling, Individual and Systems Advocacy, Independent Living Skills training, Nursing Home/Other Institution placement prevention and relocation, and a consumer-directed Personal Assistance Services program. LINC also provides assistance in accessible home modifications, assistive technology, accessible transportation, and other individualized services designed to help people with disabilities maintain or regain their independence in the community.

Living Independently for Everyone (LIFE) -- LIFE maintains one satellite office specifically to serve one of the main minority populations in the LIFE service area. The Blackfoot office, which is located in Bingham County, serves the Hispanic and migrant worker population mainly in the Power, Bingham, and Bannock counties and the Burley office serves Cassia and Minidoka counties. The other two offices are located in Pocatello and Idaho Falls. Staff are employed from these communities that know and relate to the cultures and traditions of each community. LIFE service area contains nineteen counties served from four offices. There are 40,426 square land miles in total for these counties with a population of approximately 400,000.

Disability Action Center Northwest (DAC NW) - DAC serves the 10 northern counties. Services in outlying areas are not equivalent to those in the areas immediately surrounding office locations - Moscow, Coeur d'Alene, and Lewiston. The DAC NW mission is "building community, achieving equality, and creating independence in an accessible world."

APPOINTMENT AND COMPOSITION OF THE SILC

Council members are usually referred as nominees by CIL directors or other Council members, disability advocates or the general public throughout the state. Nomination forms are accepted on an ongoing basis. Selection of a nominee is based upon one’s knowledge of the independent living philosophy along with the desire and ability to serve. Full participation is crucial to the success of the Council, so candidates must carefully consider their time commitment and other factors when submitting a nomination form. When a vacancy occurs, nominations are reviewed by the Membership Committee. The Committee makes a recommendation to the full Council regarding its selection. The Council forwards its recommendation to the Governor. The Governor appoints all members.
