

Part I – Agency Profile

Agency Overview

A major state government reorganization in 1974 resulted in the creation of the Department of Self-Governing Agencies. The Bureau of Occupational Licenses (Bureau) was created, within the Department of Self-Governing Agencies, to serve the needs of many of the regulatory bodies within the Department.

Governor C. L. "Butch" Otter appointed Tana Cory as Chief of the Bureau on January 2, 2007. The Bureau administrative staff consists of an administrative attorney, an administrative support manager, a business operations specialist, a management assistant, a hearing/appeals coordinator, a complaint coordinator, nine technical records specialists, a supervising investigator, eleven investigators, one customer service representative, two office specialists, two financial technicians, and an IT support technician. This organizational structure allows the Bureau to provide efficient service to regulatory Boards, Board members, licensees, applicants, and the public.

The Bureau's operations depend solely on dedicated funds generated from fees for applications, original licenses/registrations, renewals, examinations, and disciplinary fines. Neither tax dollars nor other funds from Idaho's general fund are used. The Bureau's annual appropriation is distributed among the boards based on historical needs, new programs, and requests. Monthly financial status reports for the Bureau and the individual boards are available at all times throughout the year on the website at www.ibol.idaho.gov.

Those regulatory bodies that contract for services with the Bureau are subject to economic changes, population trends, and other factors that directly affect entry into a particular profession. These trends influence the number of new applicants and the number of licenses renewed annually which, in turn, impacts the amount of revenue collected by a board for its operations.

Core Functions/Idaho Code

The Bureau is empowered by Title 67, Chapter 26, Idaho Code to enter into written agreements to provide administrative, investigative, fiscal, and legal services to contracting self-governing entities. This arrangement, often referred to as an "umbrella," allows several boards to share resources and the costs of operation while maintaining their independence. The IBOL currently contracts with the following boards:

- Idaho State Board of Acupuncture;
- Board of Architectural Examiners;
- Uniform Athlete Agents Registration;

Performance Highlights

- The Bureau currently serves 29 Boards and Commissions.
- There were 4,413 inspections conducted FY2014.
- The number of licensees was 58,821 in FY2014.
- The Bureau held 195 board meetings in FY2014.

The Bureau has been working to improve efficiency and effectiveness over the past several years. An example is creating a process to improve timeliness and accuracy on minutes and agendas. Upgrades have also been made to web and application processes to streamline and make information more accessible as well as to improve the online renewal system. Additionally, several new processes have been put into place to improve customer service and to reduce the time it takes to complete investigations. The Bureau is working with several other self-governing agencies on implementing a new licensing and regulatory computer system.
